

"Arap Sang and the Cranes" p. 804-809

1. In what African climate region do you think this story is set, and why do you think so?
2. Storytelling is an art form in Africa. What would make this a good story for telling aloud?
3. This is an explanatory tale, which tries to explain the origins or characteristics of certain things. What is being explained in this story?
4. What do you think is the message of this story?